One Dollar a Minute • For • Ten • Minutes •

R. HOE & CO., The Famous Printing Press Builders of the World, have recently installed in our establishment one of their finest and fastest Cyl-nder Job Printing Presses. No such press has ever been erected or owned in this part of the country. It is built for a special line of work—Circulars, Letter and Note Heads, Envelopes, Folders, Schedules, Blank Ruled Forms, Etc., and the Messrs. Hoe say "there is no finer press made." We were after the VERY BEST.

Now, we haven't decided on a name for the "little wonder," and have concluded to allow our friends to suggest what its name shall be. Almost every one in the territory tributary to Roanoke has heard of our "Promise Keeper," how it has enabled us to keep promises that seemed impossible to comply with. And nobly it holds its own. Sometimes its whirring can be heard all through the watches of the night, even after a general day's work has been performed.
 Yet, with a liberal breakfast of choice lubricant, it is fresh and bright for another busy day.
 Pardon the digression.

For the best, most useful, "catchy" name for the new machine we offer a prize of TEN DOLLARS IN GOLD

(Five Dollars for the "guide wife" and Five Dollars for the baby, perhaps.) While the contest is open to any and all, men or women, boys or girls, it would give us especial pleasure if the winner should be from the family of a customer, or one that is to be.
 The contest will remain open until February 1st, 1896.
 No one, of course, in any way connected with our establishment can enter the contest.
 Address—

The Stone Printing and Manufacturing Company,
 "The New Press," Edw. L. Stone, President. ROANOKE, VA.

An Old Soldier's Recommendation.
 In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G.

During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea. Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief it would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Disentery Remedy was brought to my notice.

I used it, and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease, as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. BEND-ING, Halsey, Oregon. For sale by the Chas. Lyle Drug Company.

CHAMBERLAIN'S Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of bad colds. It opens the secretions, relieves the lungs and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. If freely used as soon as the cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it greatly lessens the severity of the attack, and has often cured in a single day what would have been a severe cold. For sale by the Chas. Lyle Drug Company.

W. K. ANDREWS & Co., 219 Salem avenue, are strictly coal and wood dealers. They keep everything you need in that line, and will deliver it promptly. Look out for the belled teams.

If you want the cheapest coal in the city buy Andrews' semi-bituminous "Red Ash." You may know his teams by the bells.

 they are getting full weight. A ton with us means a ton, not one or two hundred weight short.

ECCELESIASTICAL ROME.

An Always Present Power That Gives the City Its Importance.

"Eccelesiasitic" Rome is the stronghold of a most tremendous fact from whatever point of view Christianity may be considered. If one could in imagination detach the head of the Catholic church from the church, one would be obliged to admit that no single living man possesses the far-reaching and lasting power which in such succeeding papal reign belongs to the pope. Behind the pope stands the fact which confers, maintains and extends that power from century to century—a power which is one of the largest elements of the world's moral activity, both in its own direct action and in the counteraction and antagonism which it calls forth continually.

It is the all pervading presence of this greatest fact, literally, in Christendom which has carried on Rome's importance from the days of the Caesars across the chasm of the dark ages to the days of modern popes, and it is this really enormous importance which continually throws forward into cruel relief the puerilities and inanities of the daily outward world. It is the consciousness of that importance which makes old Roman society what it is, with its virtues, its vices, its prejudices and its strange, old fashioned, close fitted kindliness, which makes the contrast between the saturnalia of Shrove Tuesday night and the cross signed with ashes upon the forehead of Ash Wednesday morning, between the careless laughter of the Roman beauty in carnival and the tragic earnestness of the same lovely face when the great lady kneels in Lent before the confessional to receive upon her bent head the light touch of the penitentiary's wand, taking her turn perhaps with a score of women of the people. It is the knowledge of an always present power, active throughout the whole world, which throws deep, straight shadows, as it were, through the Roman character, just as in certain ancient families there is a secret that makes grave the lives of those who know it.—Marion Crawford in Century.

Met the Emergency.

The following incident happened at the Criterion theater in London the other evening. At the end of one of the scenes Mr. Wyndham tells a fellow actor to go down stairs and he will follow him in three minutes. Then, as he takes out his watch, the curtain should descend. On this occasion, however, it failed to do so, and the Squire of Dames reclined on the sofa, patiently waiting.
 An almost painful pause occurred. The curtain jerked, but would not fulfill its mission, and Mr. Wyndham, realizing the situation, again pulled out his watch, and said, "Ah, two minutes have passed." There was another pause, after which he arose and announced that "the time was up and he must go." As he left the stage the curtain at last descended, and Mr. Wyndham's ready wit was much applauded.—London Globe.

The Secret Was Safe.

"Why did you talk in French to Ethel last night?"

"Because I had something to impart to her that I wished no one else to know."

"But there was a French lady sitting close behind you."

"Yes, but I have discovered that she did not understand a word we said."—

SUBSTITUTES DO NOT CURE.

An old-fashioned way of getting there. Slow and safe, but hard work. Most women, have got beyond this kind of traveling—found something better.

Now, why can't you look at that other old-fashioned proceeding in the same light—washing things with soap and hard rubbing.
 That's slow enough and tiresome enough, everybody knows, and it's not as safe as washing with Pearlina. It's really destructive, in fact, the wear of that constant rubbing. Break away from these antiquated ideas. Use modern methods. Pearlina saves at every point.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, be honest—send it back. 457 JAMES PYLE, New York.
